Who should attend:

i-Tree is a state-of-the-art, peer-reviewed software suite from the USDA Forest Service that provides urban forestry analysis and benefits assessments tools. The i-Tree Tools help communities of all sizes to strengthen their urban forest management and advocacy efforts by quantifying the structure of community trees and the environmental services that trees provide. Go to www.itreetools.org for more details.

State and municipal staff and other partners associated with Urban Forestry Programs in New England and New York. This workshop will not be widely advertised. We are limited to 26 computer terminals. Each state is asked to recruit and register 2 people. Ideally attendees should have some basic computer knowledge and the desire to use and hopefully promote the i-Tree tools. Instruction will include hands-on computer use, lecture, demonstrations and field exercises.

Trainers include:

Dr. David Bloniarz, USDA Forest Service,
Northern Research Station, Urban Natural Resources Institute, Amherst, MA

Fred Borman, Extension Educator, UNH
Cooperative Extension, Rockingham County,
Brentwood, NH

A.J. Dupere, Urban Forestry Coordinator,
